

What are buyers & sellers saying about Bob Parris?

Published Review

Bob assisted my husband and I with locating and purchasing our Glenview area home in 2014. He came to us through a personal referral. I was initially hesitant as I preferred to work with a professional I knew. After meeting with Bob and getting some listings in accordance with our criteria I was grateful and impressed. Bob is a broker who listens and diligently applies your wishes to his efforts. I have spent more than a decade working up close and personal with over 50 agents and brokers in an Administrative capacity. As a broker myself, I have witnessed a variety of approaches and techniques in the industry. Bob certainly stands out among his colleagues. He took copious notes on our search and completed various research projects on taxes, school boundaries and applicable associations. He handled our negotiations with the utmost regard for professionalism while still acquiring our desired purchase price. His stance was always succinct, knowledgeable, respectful and thorough. This left both seller and buyer in good spirits despite the numerous seller concessions that were hesitantly granted. Bob is a great negotiator, diligent researcher and highly knowledgeable Broker. I WILL work with him again.
